

This month at BTBC we remember our children, young people and school staff who are starting a new school, college or university year; our own children and youth workers and all those running various clubs and groups. It is also the start of a new season in the life of our church.

Thank you, Lord that You go before us. You have prepared the way for us, giving us strength to accomplish everything You've assigned us to do. When a concept is hard we will push through. If we feel like we are failing, we will trust in Your ability to help us. Our confidence is in You. In Jesus' name, Amen

Mission News: Hospice Jinja – Rays of Hope

Helene Lawson & I will be climbing Mt Kenya in Africa (the 2nd highest mountain in Africa at 5,000metres) in aid of Hospice Jinja and Rowcroft Hospice on September 27th to October 4th. The reason we're doing this is on a recent visit to Uganda I had the privilege of spending some time with the hospice team in Jinja. As a palliative care nurse I was struck by the lack of cancer treatment, meaning 95% of Ugandans receive no treatment at all. Hospice Jinja seeks to care for people - I met Patrick who was dying of prostate cancer amidst such poor conditions. Their only hope is palliative care.

Hospice Jinja is a charity, working hard with little resources to bring much needed pain relief and compassionate care to people in rural villages in one of the poorest regions in Uganda. They provide food packs for patients who have no food and school packs for their children, who otherwise would not be allowed to attend primary school. They are a small team of Ugandan nurses, a social worker, physician assistants and a volunteer palliative care doctor who visit patients in their homes. They use their 4x4 truck often driving 200kms a day to reach the most rural and isolated villages. The Hospice has to pay for the drugs they provide to patients (except oral morphine which the government provides) and do not receive any government funding – they rely on donations to continue their amazing work. They need our help.

They are also doing some exciting work in offering cervical screening to women (this is not provided by the state – despite 49% female cancers being cervical) and finding women that they can send for treatment. I'm so pleased the recent Thank Offering raised £1,360 for Hospice Jinja. Dr Margrethe, the volunteer palliative care doctor responded to the news of this donation with "...this is totally amazing – I am so, so happy. God bless the Bovey Baptist Church congregation. What an incredible support to think of that they want to help our work" and another member of the hospice team said: 'please pass out most sincere appreciation to Bovey Baptist Church'.

Our amazing church was also able to support one of the hospice nurses to fund the 2nd year of his degree in palliative care. Increasing the knowledge of a hospice team member like this will have a great benefit on the work the hospice can do.

Please continue to pray and help us support Hospice Jinja care for some of the poorest and most vulnerable people of our world.
